There are subsets in Sacred Music, which prepares students for a career in religious music or further studies at the graduate level in Sacred Music; and Jazz Performance, which prepares students for careers in Jazz or Commercial venues. Permission to major in music is granted by the Department of Music. All music courses have been approved as required by the National Association of Schools of Music, and SACS.

Students interested in obtaining certification to teach this subject area in secondary education need to contact an advisor in this department to carefully plan the course work to satisfy degree and some teacher certification requirements. A degree in this major is required for participation teacher education certification options.

The Department of Music has held accreditation by the National Association of Schools of Music since 1971.

An Interdisciplinary Arts program is available for students who want to pursue a broad background in the fine and performing arts. The program is primarily offered on the OWCC Niceville campus, but may also be completed at the UWF Pensacola and Fort Walton Beach campuses. Further information is available in the Humanities Interdisciplinary section of this catalog.

PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

In addition to general University requirements, students seeking the B.A. in Music must meet the requirements listed below.

ADMISSION

To be admitted as a music major, students must audition for the faculty at least one semester prior to enrollment as a music major. Entering freshmen are advised to contact the Department of Music during their senior year in high school in order to secure information regarding scholarship auditions and general information about the degree plan of their choice. Scholarship auditions are generally scheduled in January, February, and March of each academic year.

Transfer students from other colleges and universities are advised to contact the Department of Music one semester prior to their anticipated date of enrollment in order to insure a smooth transition into the music curriculum at UWF.

Transcripts will be evaluated by the coordinator prior to enrollment as a music major.

Departmental Requirements

In addition to the course requirements, the Department of Music requires the following of its majors:

- A. Every student enrolled in applied lessons must participate in a major ensemble sponsored by the Department (i.e., band or chorus). Exceptions will be made only if students are student teaching in their senior year.
- B. All majors must participate in the weekly student recital performance classes and perform as recommended by their applied professor. Majors generally perform at least once during the semester.
- C. All majors must attend a minimum of 12 concerts or recitals each semester in residence. The concerts or recitals may include student recitals, symphony concerts, music hall artists series concerts, and any other program of "classical" nature approved by the faculty.
- D. All students using the practice facilities must secure a building pass from the music office each semester.
- E. A minimum grade of "C-" in all major courses.
